Of all the things I miss about childhood, summer vacation may be at the top of the list. I've lived in Arizona since I was 10 years old, and while late May meant the onslaught of triple-digit temperatures, it also signaled the beginning of three blissful months of freedom.

Many children and teens spend their summer vacations at camp, the focus of our All About Families special section.

I went to Boys & Girls Club day camp in middle school, and I remember fondly the art projects, movie screenings, bowling excursions and new friendships. Josh Sayles' article on specialized day camps has something for every young athlete, writer and conservationist.

Elsewhere in All About Families, you'll find a piece on school break camps around the Valley and advice on when children are ready for overnight camp.

Beyond the camp content, we've got tips for designing great playrooms, thoughts for family caregivers, healthy dog treat recipes, couponing strategies, a look at kindergarten readiness and more.

Enjoy!

A passion for caring

The Roth family learned what it meant to be caregivers by caring for their wife and mother, Joan, for the last 18 years of her life. This labor of love sparked in them the desire to start a company that could provide compassionate care for others in the same way they had for Joan. Cypress HomeCare Solutions was founded in 1994. Today, Bob Roth leads the way as managing partner while his father, Sheldon Roth, maintains his role as chairman of the board. Together they carry on the family tradition of caring.

Cypress HomeCare Solutions is dedicated to providing the highest quality homecare services to aging seniors and families with chronically ill or disabled loved ones. Their service often provides the relief decision-making family members so desperately need. By assessing the individual needs of each client, Cypress matches the best suited caregiver to not only tend to personal care, but also be a companion. Clients and their families can rest assured that caregivers from Cypress are thoroughly screened, highly trained and have the same passion for caring that continues to drive the Roth family to help others.

The Cypress HomeCare Solutions family is continually humbled by the respect and support shown by the community, which has honored them with a number of awards throughout the years. In 2007, Goodwill Industries of Central Arizona named Cypress Small Business of the Year. In 2009, Cypress was named one of the Comerica Bank Arizona Companies to Watch. Bob and Sheldon received the 2009 Spirit of Philanthropy Award for their continued generosity and community involvement. Most recently, Cypress was proud to have received the 2010 #1 Home Health Agency from Ranking Arizona, the largest business opinion poll in Arizona.

Cypress and the Roth family are rooted deeply in the community of Phoenix and are committed to providing families solutions they can rely on.
